ELIGIBILITY SCREENING TOOL

Note: This screener is for the telephone recruit, that is, after the potential respondent received the invitation letter in the mail and was directed to either call the toll-free phone number, or to go to a website. The web-based screener was almost identical, save for minor adjustments to account for the mode.

I. PHONE SCREENER [Potential Respondent calls toll-free number after receiving mailing]
Interview Date:
Interviewer ID:
Thanks for calling. As noted in the letter you received, we are conducting research about families and friendships in Northern California for a project called the UC Berkeley Social Networks s tudy. I would like to see if you qualify for the study and then I will ask you if you would be willing to participate. This call should take less than 5 minutes . [Interviewer: if asked how we got their address say "We selected your address at random from the US Post Office registry of addresses."]
In this study we are looking for people in two age groups, either 21 to 30 years old, or 50 to 70 years old.
1. (scoo1) Is there anyone in your household, including you, whose age is 21 to 30?  _Yes _No _DK
2. (scoo2) Is there anyone in your household, including you, whose age is 50 to 70?  _Yes _No _DK
If Q1 ne 'yes' AND Q2 ne 'yes' go to

You indicated that there is no one in your household (including you) who is 21 to 30 years old or 50 to 70 years old. If this is correct, then please just click 'Next' to continue. Otherwise, please just go back to change your answers. Please note that once you click 'Next' you won't be able to go back and change any of your answers.

If continues, then TERMINATE.

No one in your household fits into one of the eligible age groups, so we will not be interviewing in this household. You may learn more about our project by visiting the UCNets website (http://UCNets.berkeley.edu). Thank you for contacting us about the UCNets study.

A main goal of this study is to understand people's social relationships. In this interview, we'll be asking you to tell us about the people you know.

- You'll tell us a first name and maybe also the last initial or a nickname, just so we can tell who is who.
- Some people you might want to name just once, others several times.
- All the names will be kept strictly confidential.

C. NETWORK: NAME DESCRIPTIONS

Note: By this point, the software has compiled a list of unique names from section A (spouse/partner; members of household) and Section B. It has checked to make sure each name is unique. There is a record line for each name and a variable indicating the specific question(s) which elicited it (and the rank order of its elicitation for each question that elicited it). The questions in Sections C and D provide further variables for each Name record. Those with no names mentioned skip to Section D.

D. NETWORK: DESCRIBING THE SUBSAMPLE OF NAMES

Note: Here we draw a subsample of up-to-five names for more intensive questioning. The names are drawn from six of the name-eliciting questions (listed below), excluding members of the household who are kin and or the spouse surrogate, but allowing non-kin roommates. The procedure takes the first name that qualifies (not a relative in household; not a partner in household) offered in answer to each of six questions in order. The questions for the names are prioritized as follows: first a name from "discuss personal matters" (B.4.a/c.); then, "help if sick" (B.7c/e.); "social activities" (B.2.a/c.); "seek advice" (B.5.a/c.), "respondent helps" (B.8.a/c.); "gets practical help" (B.6.b/d.). Six questions are provided, but the name selection process stops after five unique names are drawn. Where the first name has already been selected by this procedure (e.g., John was listed 1st in both "discuss personal matters" and "help if sick"), then we take the 2nd name in the second question; where the 1st and 2nd have been taken, take the 3rd name in the third (or fourth) question, etc. If there are no eligible names given in answer to a question (no names are given or all the names answered in that question have either been already selected or are excluded household members), then that the procedure moves on to the next question. The procedure stops once five eligible names have been taken or the last question ("gets practical help") has been examined. We should get a range of 0 (rarely) to 5 names for this section.

The D variables can be found in the Names file only.
